

The extended school day

A busy child is a happy child, and happiness leads to success. Providing an extended school day that runs from 8:30am-5:30pm, Monday to Friday, will have many benefits, including to improve progress and achievement for all students, enabling them to be the best that they can be. Extending school hours means that we can offer a much broader and deeper education. Each and every student will be encouraged to fulfil their individual potential in many different areas, according to their abilities, skills and interests. Parents can be confident that their child is being nurtured and developed for the duration of their time in school each day.

Between 3:30am-5:30pm, every student will be participating in a rigorous and comprehensive range of activities that will stretch and challenge their intellect to improve their outcomes in the future.

Providing students with extra time in the school day to catch-up on missed or misunderstood learning will be pivotal for their academic success.

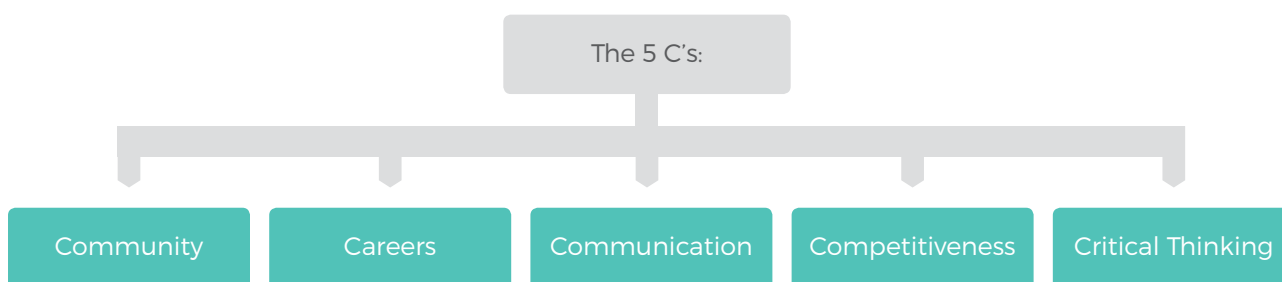

Each of our students is an individual and they need a school that is able to take the time with them to understand and personalise their educational provision. The extended day will enable students to experience high quality teaching to help them to overcome barriers to learning; thus unlocking the potential of these students.

There will be a no excuses culture at Eden Park High School. The time between 3:30pm-5:30pm ensures that student needs are addressed. Whether that is literacy catch-up, completing home learning, or extra tuition needed in any subject, an extended school day means that all students will be stretched to make better than expected progress.

Enrichment

Our commitment to extend the school day until 5.30pm, will also provide an opportunity to enrich the curriculum and develop the core skills needed to equip students to be the best they can be.

Every student will spend some time each day engaged in a valuable learning experience outside of the normal classroom to nurture a love of learning. This will be developed through the 5 Cs of Community, Careers, Communication, Competitiveness and Critical Thinking.

The extended learning day will allow us to develop a personalised curriculum and there will be a wealth of extra-curricular experiences. The enriched curriculum will be delivered by a range of suitably qualified staff as appropriate to the activity.

The 5Cs are exemplified below:

Community:

Eden Park High School will have community relations and citizenship at its very heart. We believe we can serve the community well and build a community spirit as we take an active place in the local community.

Our community enrichment programme will include:

Careers:

One of our aims is to increase the life chances of all our students. We believe that students need to be equipped with a range of skills to prepare them for their working life in the 21st Century. Our enrichment for all programme will show students the real life relevance of their school experience. We will engage students in learning through relevant, interesting and inspirational activities to help students acquire the skills, knowledge and attitudes they will need for today's constantly changing world of work. This work will equip students with the 21st skills they need to thrive including employability skills. The programme will be aspirational and access students to the very highest advice as they progress through the school.

Our careers enrichment programme will include:

Communication:

We believe that communication is at the centre of every successful organisation. Therefore good reading, writing, speaking and listening skills are essential to students to equip them to lead successful lives in the 21st Century. We intend to offer a unique and diverse range of learning activities to give our students the ability to approach their futures with confidence.

Competitiveness:

At Eden Park High School we will know what motivates our students and we will nurture this so that they become experts and have their chance to shine.

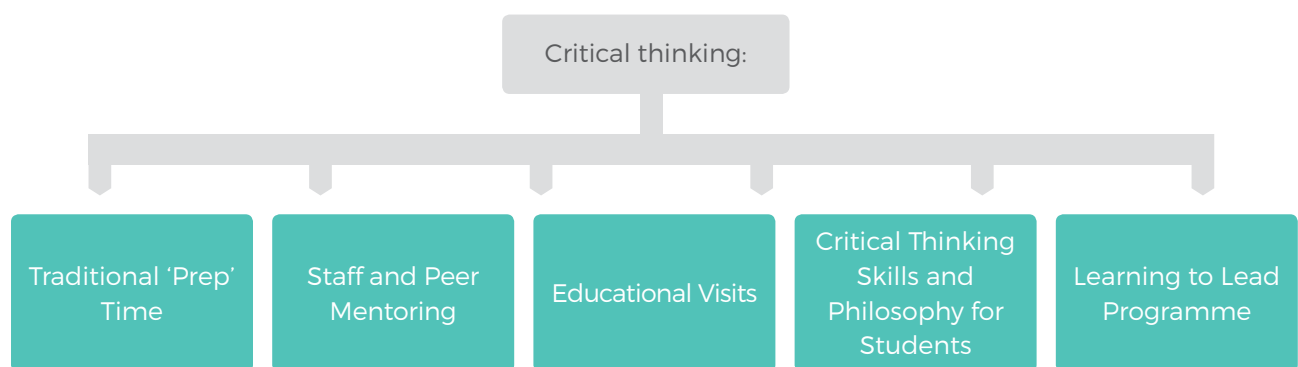

Our competitive enrichment programme will include:

Critical Thinking:

To give our students the leading edge they will develop their own critical thinking skills, meaning they will be able to find the necessary information for themselves; they will be able to evaluate the merits and consequences of that information; and they will be able to utilise that information to solve any problems at hand.

Our critical thinking enrichment programme will include:

In summary, the extended day gives an excellent opportunity to address the particular needs of each cohort. Through providing each student with the above it will support them in becoming the best that they can be. Additionally it will contribute to 100% of students making better than expected progress.
